Surprising Results.

A SIMPLE INTERNAL REMEDY MAKES REMARKABLE CURES OF CATARRH.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form: druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment, is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies. Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with laryngeal catarrh, by destroying nerve sensation; the irritation in throat, which causes coughing is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of whole-some antiseptics, Blood root, Red gum from Eucalyptus tree, etc. When you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell, in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular, which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores in no reason why any good physician should not use them, because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found." Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal cures in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very beginning.

ROCK ASPHALT UNDER FIRE

G. G. Southerland of the Green River Co. Cites Authority to Prove His Pavement's Quality.

John P. Sweeney, delegate from the Third ward, said, in an interview with the Post-Dispatch Friday, "Kelly and his associates talk of an asphalt ring. Half a dozen of the street improvement bills laid over temporarily provide for rock asphaltum. No city in the union uses this street paving, because it has been found to be worthless. But the concern which manufactures it has a monopoly."

"I do not know Speaker Kelly," said G. G. Southerland, president of the Green Asphalt Co. Saturday morning. "Neither do I know Delegate Sweeney. But I do know that rock asphalt has had a sufficient test, not only in Memphis and in Louisville and in Buffalo and in other cities, but in St. Louis itself, to warrant the Board of Public Improvements here in putting rock asphalt in its specifications. Grand and Calhoun avenues are sufficient examples. But, of course, I am prejudiced in favor of my own product. But here is a letter to the American Asphalt Journal from Frank V. E. Bartol, chief engineer of the public works. This is what he says:

"We have 52 streets paved with asphalt in the city of St. Louis. Some of these pavements are composed entirely of American rock, while others contain a small proportion of German rock. These asphalt rock pavements have been down from seven to twelve years, and the reason of the continuance of the industry seems to have been the usual 'selling out' the stock control of the contracting company and closing down of business, coupled with the employment of the city's workers by the trust. These asphalt rock pavements have given excellent service under all conditions, proving entirely satisfactory to the city officials, the property owners, the street users and all concerned. The war has been almost imperceptible and the repair expense so slight as to be scarcely worth counting."

BOY JOURNALIST IS "BROKE"

Richard Murphy of Jefferson City, Former Friend of Russell Sage, Needs Car Fare.

Richard Murphy, the precocious youth of 13 summers, who, a year ago dazzled the world by his attainments in a journalistic way, is again in St. Louis. On his former visit Master Richard stopped at the Planters' Hotel and waited on the prominent merchants and politicians of note. Then he wore gorgeous raiment, and had money in his pockets. For this day only, he is the guest of the police department in a dormitory at the Four Courts, and he will be under the care of Matron Kintzing until the police are instructed by his parents what disposition shall be made of him.

Richard's father is in fair circumstances at Jefferson City. Richard started an amateur newspaper, and it soon attracted the attention of persons outside of his own locality. He conceived the idea of coming to St. Louis and soliciting business. The railroad passed him. His talk and assurance was far beyond his years.

He yearned for bigger worlds. He went to New York, this lad of 12. He got money from Russell Sage and others as easily as it came in St. Louis, but prosperity turned to adversity. The money quit coming in. His father took him home. The publication of the Spectator was stopped and Richard was told he must go to school. "It is now more than a year since I was in the newspaper business," said the boy to the Post-Dispatch, "and as I had not been to St. Louis for a long time, I thought to take advantage of the Easter holidays to see your charming city again. I am going to start a paper soon. I came down to see what I could buy a plant for. I had a little money that my father gave me. It was not much, but I went to the theater last night. After the theater I went to a restaurant. I met a politician. I had met him before. He came over and sat at my table. I asked him to eat. He asked me what I was doing. I said that I was a journalist. He said that he had just got out of a street car and paid my fare to the Four Courts. This left me two dimes and a half-face car ticket. I knew Chief Kelly and was going to get transportation home. But Chief Kelly was here and he had me locked up here waiting for a wire from father."

"I don't dress like I did before. But what is the use. It is necessary for a man in business to dress to the part. I am not in business now and there is no need in spending money when you cannot get it to spend."

Merger Bill Vote Postponed.

DES MOINES, Mo., March 29.—The Senate has postponed consideration of the Governor's veto of the Missouri "merger" bill until Tuesday. It has been discovered that the constitutionality of the bill requires a two-thirds vote of all the members of the assembly, but only two-thirds of the members present at the time of the vote. The bill encourages the friends of the measure to believe they may be able to pass it over the veto.

RED BEARD STIRRED JUDGE TO WRATH

GREETED BY WHISKERS EACH TIME HE ENTERED COURT.

ORDERED THEIR OWNER OUT

Magistrate Pollard Shouted: "Red-Whiskered Schmidt, Get Out of Here," and He Got.

Red whiskers were responsible for a commotion in the City Hall police court Saturday morning.

Judge W. Jefferson Pollard, who has been acting judge of the court during the present week, saw the whiskers when he entered the Sidener tribunal last Monday. Each succeeding day the identical inflammatory whiskers greeted him as he entered.

"Whose that man with those red whiskers?" he inquired of Clerk P. J. Regan Saturday morning. "O, that fellow named Schmidt," said Regan. "He's always hanging round here."

"Red-whiskered Schmidt get out of this courtroom at once," shouted acting Judge Pollard at the top of the big voice that has a national reputation for its volume. In the twinkling of an eye the fiery thern-warmers and their frightened owner were "hot-footing" towards the door.

"I see other men around here that have been here all week. I want them to get out," Judge Pollard continued. "Men are brought before this court charged with liding and sent to the workhouse sometimes. That's what ought to be done with men who have no business in this courtroom and are here every day."

"And they are not all out in the spectators' benches, either," the frate court went on, warning up to the unique subject.

"Ex-members of the House of Delegates and ex-members of the political city committee are in the habit of coming around here and getting within the enclosure set apart for members of the bar. Hereafter I want all of them and all grafter to keep away."

The remarks were delivered with such emphasis that there was a perceptible depopulation of the courtroom.

LOWTHER GUILTY OF HERESY

The Accused Kansas Teacher Refused to Stop Teaching His Doctrine.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., March 29.—Rev. Granville Lowther today formally refused to accept the proposition to stop his teachings, and the Methodist Episcopal trial committee therefore declares him guilty of heresy. This, of course, means dismissal from the church.

The trial committee met today behind closed doors and immediately a statement was presented from Rev. Lowther in which he declined to accept the proposition to acquit him if he would cease his heretical utterances.

Soon later, Rev. Lowther said that he had been so certain of acquittal that he had made no future plans.

"Will you appeal to the general conference?" was asked.

"No, I think not," was the reply.

FOUGHT FOR A REVOLVER

School Teacher and Scholar Struggled for a Loaded Weapon.

Miss Outille Herzog, teacher of room 6 in the Elliot School, had an exciting struggle for the possession of a revolver with Shierles Schlude, a 15-year-old scholar, Friday.

Schlude had the weapon concealed in his inside coat pocket, and had frightened several of the scholars, who had in the teacher that Schlude was a dangerous boy.

Miss Herzog called Schlude to her desk and commanded him to empty out his pockets. He emptied all but the inside coat pocket. Miss Herzog asked him if he had any other pockets. The boy answered that he had, and pulling the revolver from the pocket.

Miss Herzog grappled with the boy and succeeded in disarming him. The lad was sent home.

Board of Directors of Exposition Request Delay of Thirty Days Before Disposal of Music Hall Property.

The board of directors of the St. Louis Exposition and Music Hall Association held a meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at which Messrs. George J. Tansey, E. S. Orr, Murray Carleton, Frank Gallenine and W. J. Atkinson were present.

A resolution was introduced and after some discussion passed, to the effect that the bondholders' committee, under the chairmanship of Hon. E. O. Starnard, be requested to postpone the sale of the Exposition buildings set for next Monday, for 30 days. It is understood that the bondholders' committee will take the matter under advisement today, so as to be ready to make the necessary announcement at 10 o'clock Monday next at the east door of the courthouse.

GEN. DELAREY HAD 2000 MEN.

Lost Only 179 of Them in Lord Kitchen's Trap.

PRETORIA, March 29.—Complete details of the brush between Kitchen's troops and Delarey's forces at Klerksdorp indicate that the Boer leader had 2000 men whom, with the exception of 179, taken prisoners, he led out of the trap, to the great chagrin of Lord Kitchen.

A breach was made in the British lines by a shrewd move. The Boers formed in line according to the English military style and were mistaken for King Edward's soldiers until they charged the enemy and broke his ranks. The Boers soon distanced their pursuers.

The guns taken were those which were captured from the Van Donop convoy in February.
